This Week's Wisdom: LEAVE A STONE BEHIND

by Mike Selinker

Go to any Jewish cemetery, and you will find pebbles stacked upon tombstones. It's not clear why this tradition started, but the effect is obvious: You know that someone's been by to visit. If the dead need comforting, that's likely to do it. In this puzzle, we've left a few stones behind to commemorate the dead. Take a look around, and we're sure you'll find them in their proper places.
